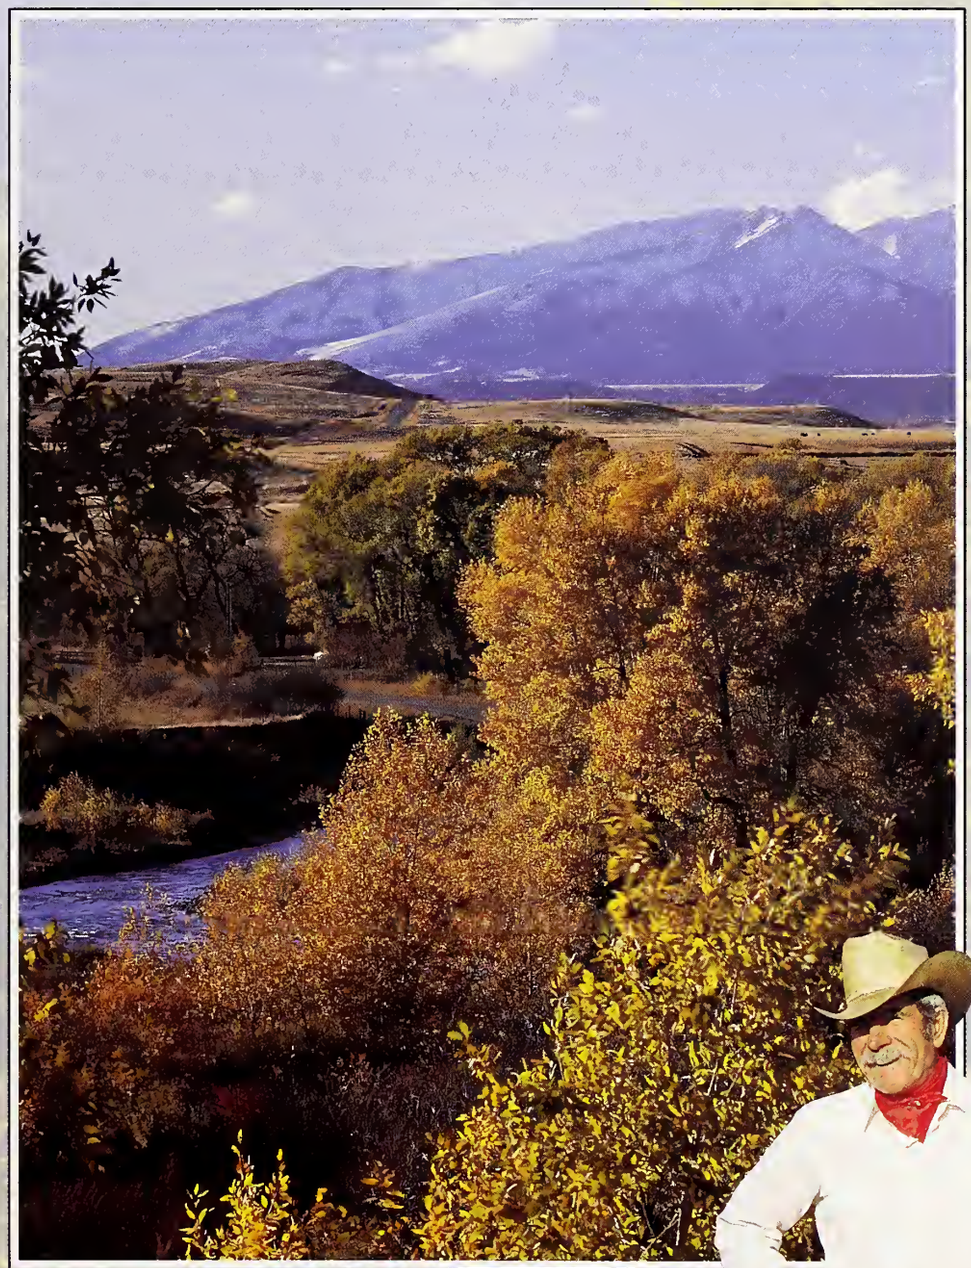
1992-93 Meeting Planner's Guide



Montana State Library

In Montana, our meeting rooms come with a view.

In Montana, we know how to conduct business in blue jeans and make policy in pinstripes. We also know how to strike the perfect balance between business and pleasure.

In Montana you can lead a seminar, present a program, and exchange ideas around a conference table. Then float a river, ride a horse, or catch a trout. Give the keynote address, negotiate a deal, or discuss the ten-year plan. Then ski the Rockies, listen to meadowlarks sing, and marvel at mountain goats.

Cross-country skiing Jean Arthur

Montana is open for business year-round. Spring is a time to photograph wildflowers and watch elk calves totter on uncertain legs. Summer makes the mountains perfect for hiking and horseback riding. Autumn enchants golfers and fly fishers with brilliant foliage, warm days, and crisp nights. Winter delights skiers and snowmobilers with sparkling snow and incredibly blue skies.

Montana has two of the world's greatest natural assets. The crown of the continent is Glacier National Park, where mountain goats pose amid unparalleled scenery. In Yellowstone National Park, geysers erupt while bison graze nearby. In between are wide-open spaces, the soaring Rocky Mountains, pristine rivers and lakes, elegant resorts and comfortable ranches, modern cities and colorful communities, peaceful museums and wild rodeos, and abundant, watchable wildlife.

All this is Montana. And you're invited to visit.

GLACIER COUNTRY

The land of shining mountains, shimmering lakes, and sparkling streams. World-class golf courses. Historic mansions and professional summer theater. Community festivals and riproaring rodeos. Watchable wildlife.

Glacier Country encompasses Montana's northwest corner. Here you can climb the Continental Divide in Glacier National Park, raft the beautiful Flathead River, and drive through the scenic Bitterroot Valley.

Meeting facilities range from secluded, executive retreats in pristine settings to full-scale convention services in attractive mountain communities.

Want a sampling? Ride the chairlift and conduct a seminar in the upper lodge on The Big Mountain, with views of Glacier National Park and Canada. Charter a sailboat and have a picnic-lunch meeting on Wild Horse Island in Flathead Lake. Play an early round of golf at one of the area's sixteen courses and present your business plan in the afternoon. Complete a planning session in a room overlooking the Clark Fork River, then grab your binoculars and hike into the Rattlesnake Wilderness.

Glacier National Park Doug Dye

Glacier Country—perfect for work and play.

For more information on cities in Glacier Country, see Kalispell and vicinity, pages 28-31; Missoula and vicinity, pages 32-35; and Whitefish and vicinity, pages 38-42, or call 1-800-338-5072.

GOLD WEST COUNTRY

The heart of the Rockies, the heart of the 1800s Gold Rush.

Gold West Country blankets the southwestern corner of Montana. Here, the Continental Divide traces a rugged path through national forests and wilderness areas, wild trout beckon fly fishers from around the world, and a wealth of Gold Rush history comes alive in mansions, museums, and restored ghost towns.

Plan your convention here with plenty of free time for recreation and sightseeing. Charter a tour boat through the scenic Gates of the Mountains, then hold an outdoor meeting at the edge of a wilderness. Learn new skills during an intense day-long seminar, then soak under the stars in a natural hot springs pool. Ski fresh powder in the morning and present your business plan in the afternoon. Let a guest ranch entertain your family while you take care of business, then saddle up for an evening trail ride.

Business facilities in Gold West Country include spacious convention halls, elegant meeting rooms, and excellent support services. So come to Gold West Country. One way or another, you're sure to strike it rich.

Nevada City Wayne Mumford

For more information on cities in Gold West Country, see Butte and vicinity, pages 21-22; and Helena and vicinity, pages 26-27, or call 1-406-846-1943.

CHARLIE RUSSELL COUNTRY

Where snow-capped mountains meet the plains, where wild rivers course through limestone canyons, and where rugged buttes tower against dramatic skies.

Here in north-central Montana, grizzly bears staunchly defended their fishing grounds when Lewis and Clark portaged the "great falls." Steamboats navigated the treacherous rapids of the Missouri River. Cattle barons made their fortunes. And Charlie Russell immortalized the country with his paintbrush.

Great Falls provides the central location for convention facilities. Community amenities include saunas, swimming pools, hot tubs, tennis and racquetball courts, golf courses, the famous C.M. Russell Museum and original log cabin studio, and a very pleasant downtown.

Out of town, you can canoe a Wild and Scenic River—for an afternoon or a week. Guest ranches provide well-trained horses to take you into the backcountry. Steamboat trade comes alive at the Fort Benton Museum. Native Americans welcome you to colorful pow-wows.

So bring your camera, your business suit, and your blue jeans to Charlie Russell Country. You'll be glad you came.

For more information on cities in Charlie Russell Country, see Great Falls and vicinity, pages 23-25; and Havre, page 43, or call 1-800-527-5348.

Wheatfields, central Montana Rick Jackson

YELLOWSTONE COUNTRY

A region of natural abundance. Abundant wildlife. Abundant recreation. Abundant scenic beauty.

Yellowstone Country borders Yellowstone National Park in south-central Montana. Here you'll find boiling mud pots and snow-capped peaks, blue-ribbon trout streams and glittering ski slopes, a world-famous dinosaur museum and a spectacular valley called Paradise.

Yellowstone Country makes a perfect place to mix business with pleasure. Golf courses lie at the base of wilderness terrain. Tennis courts are cooled by light breezes off the peaks. You can conduct a workshop in the morning, then tour the geyser basins of Yellowstone in the afternoon. Or ride a gondola and organize small-group discussions in a field of wildflowers at the top of a mountain.

Enjoy more of Yellowstone Country after the convention. Drive the Beartooth Highway, the most beautiful drive in America. Stroll through craft fairs. Enjoy a gourmet dinner. Relax at a guest ranch. Whoop it up at a rodeo.

Yellowstone Country—it borders the incredible.

For more information on cities in Yellowstone Country, see Bozeman and vicinity, pages 16-20; and West Yellowstone and vicinity, pages 36-37, or call 1-800-736-5276.

Hiking Bill Brockett/Lone Mountain Ranch

MISSOURI RIVER COUNTRY

Where the West begins, where fields of wheat ripple across the plains, and where rough-hewn badlands rise above a majestic river.

Missouri River Country covers the northeastern corner of Montana. Here is open space and room to breathe, and time to walk and talk. There are one-room schoolhouses and vast ranches measured in miles. Fort Peck Lake fills the Missouri River "breaks" and provides pleasure boating, fishing, and more than 1,500 miles of scenic shoreline. Numerous wildlife refuges offer exceptional viewing opportunities.

Residents here are friendly, hard-working, and proud of their traditions. Numerous community museums preserve the life of early-day ranching and farming. Old-time steam threshers are fired up during Pioneer Days. Local fairs come complete with wild horse stampedes. Fort Peck Summer Theater carries on a long history of professional summer stock entertainment from musicals to melodramas.

Fort Peck Lake Jim Liebelt

Missouri River Country—vast prairie, firm handshakes, and the mighty river. It's all here for you.

For more information on cities in Missouri River Country, see Glasgow and Plentywood, page 43, or call 1-406-525-3410.

CUSTER COUNTRY

A land of blazing sunsets, broad prairies, and history forever in the making.

Custer Country covers the vast southeastern corner of Montana, where cattle ranches and Indian Reservations sprawl across the plains, and where deer and elk forage in the mountains. Where four historic rivers—the Yellowstone, Bighorn, Musselshell, and Tongue—supply recreation and commerce. And where Lieutenant Colonel George Armstrong Custer made his last stand against Sioux and Cheyenne warriors in 1876.

Billings, Montana's largest city, forms the economic hub for a three-state region. Here you'll find scenic badlands, wildlife refuges, historical museums, the Little Bighorn Battlefield National Monument, golf courses, art centers, and fishing.

Plan a trade show and then watch the horse races. Lead a training session in the morning and cast for brown trout in the afternoon. Take a horse-drawn coach tour of historic Billings and then moderate a panel discussion at a fully catered banquet.

Crow Fair tepees Will Brewster

Custer Country—a place of modern comfort and Old West charm.

For more information on cities in Custer Country, see Billings and vicinity, pages 9-15; and Glendive, page 43, or call 1-406-665-1671.

BILLINGS

Montana's largest city provides big-city amenities and small-town hospitality.

Billings is located between the historic Yellowstone River on the south and 500-foot-tall sandstone rimrocks on the north. The community was established in 1882 as a railhead for the Northern Pacific Railroad. A few years later, another railroad arrived and further boosted the economy. Today Billings is a major shipping center for cattle and other agricultural products, and it is the financial center of Montana's energy industry.

Billings offers first-class accommodations and exciting activities. Experienced convention professionals are available to handle your planning needs. Interstates 90 and 94 converge here and air service is provided by Big Sky, Continental, Delta, Horizon, Northwest, Sky West, and United Airlines.

In town, there are lovely parks and walking tours, or you can ride a horse-drawn trolley through the historic district. Tour the Moss Mansion, then stroll through the Yellowstone Art Center. Attend a performance at the Alberta Bair Theater, or watch a rodeo. Learn about regional history at the Western Heritage Center, watch a semi-pro baseball game, and gamble at a casino. Visit the 1989 Centennial Cattle Drive monument.

Numerous attractions beckon you out of town, too. Relive history at the Little Bighorn Battlefield National Monument, ski at Red Lodge Mountain, take a tour of Yellowstone National Park. Drive the breathtakingly beautiful Beartooth Highway. Cast for brown trout in the Bighorn River. Pilot a motorboat through the Bighorn Canyon National Recreation Area. Find solitude and grandeur—under the Big Sky.

BOZEMAN

Ninety minutes from Yellowstone National Park, in the crisp mountain air, lies Bozeman. A fresh alternative to the commonplace.

Bozeman offers breathtaking views and superb conference facilities. After a meeting, experience the blue-ribbon trout streams, view wildlife on uncrowded hiking or biking trails, or ski some of Bozeman's famous "cold smoke" powder at Bridger Bowl or Big Sky ski resorts.

Bozeman's history is rich and varied; Lewis and Clark were some of the first visitors to the Gallatin Valley. Following in 1864 was John Bozeman, a wagon master and trail guide who viewed the valley as an opportunity to supply the gold fields of the West with supplies. Today, Bozeman's economy is based upon agriculture, Montana State University, government, and tourism, and serves as the retail and service center for a five-county region.

Bozeman is a delightful walking town, offering a pot-pourri of art galleries, specialty shops, relaxed dining, unique "Montana-mades," designer labels, and western mercantiles. Make time to explore our downtown historic district with landmark architecture from the turn of the century.

When you walk through the Museum of the Rockies on the Montana State University campus, you travel through more than four billion years in time. Take in its world-class dinosaur exhibit, planetarium, Western art displays, and traveling art and photography galleries. Just for fun, Bozeman hosts the Sweet Pea Festival, College National Finals Rodeo, Taste of Bozeman, and the Montana Winter Fair.

Getting to Bozeman is easy. We're located on Interstate 90 and air service is provided by Continental, Delta, Northwest, and Horizon Airlines. You'll find impeccable, friendly service from our hospitality industry and capacity for groups up to 3,000. Please call for a complete meeting planner's guide.

Big Sky is Montana's largest ski and summer resort, offering the kind of peace and unspoiled beauty not often found at other ski destinations. The property was founded by the late newscaster Chet Huntley, who dreamed of developing a resort in harmony with the natural environment.

Despite its wilderness setting, accommodations at Big Sky are anything but rough. The distinctive Huntley Lodge, located at the base of the ski area, features 204 rooms, suites, and lofts. The recently completed 94-unit Shoshone Condominium Hotel is adjacent to Huntley and has one-bedroom and loft suites with spectacular views out every window of its seven stories.

Big Sky's meeting facilities are both convenient and well-appointed. A ballroom handling as many as 1,000 guests, an amphitheatre with complete audio-visual support, breakrooms, and atriums all reflect a rustic elegance.

While the area's excellent skiing of 55 miles of groomed or untracked terrain is enough to keep most wintertime guests occupied, Big Sky offers many other diversions in the summer. These include an Arnold Palmer-designed golf course, six tennis courts, scenic gondola rides, and heated outdoor pools and jacuzzi. Horseback riding, fly fishing, hiking, mountain biking, and rafting are available for the outdoor enthusiast.

BUTTE

Butte was settled in 1864 as a small mining claim and later mushroomed into a bustling copper center known as "the richest hill on earth."

After a worldwide slump in the copper market shut down mining operations in 1983, Butte citizens bounced back with a "can do" attitude. Mining operations resumed in 1986, the United States High Altitude Sports Center was built in 1987 to help train U.S. Olympic athletes, and Butte was named an "All America City" in 1988. Today Butte's diversified economy emphasizes energy research, education, medicine, transportation, and tourism.

The "Mining City" is well-known for its friendliness and hospitality. You can tour historic districts on the Old No. 1 streetcar or ride the rails on the Neversweat and Washoe Railroad. Stroll through the historic Arts Chateau, admire the Copper King Mansion, and try your luck in a casino. Gaze up at Our Lady of the Rockies on the Continental Divide. Peer into the enormous Berkeley Pit to see the amazing size of this copper mine. Fluorescent minerals are among the 1,300 specimens on display in the Mineral Museum at the Montana College of Mineral Science and Technology, and the World Museum of Mining has indoor and outdoor exhibits.

Butte is conveniently located at the crossroads of Interstates 90 and 15, and air service is provided by Delta, Horizon, and Sky West Airlines. Not far from town are numerous recreational opportunities. Choose from downhill and cross-country skiing, hot springs resorts, rock climbing, hiking, fishing, guest ranches, and golfing. Or go snowmobiling, swimming, or backpacking.

Our richest resource, the people of Butte, will make you feel welcome. We hope you will enjoy your stay and return to visit again with friends and relatives.

GREAT FALLS

Lewis and Clark wrote glowingly of the "great falls of the Missouri" during their expedition in 1804-1806. Today Great Falls is a modern trade and service center in the midst of immense skies and golden wheat fields. The Missouri River meanders through town, and parks and greenery abound.

This was the home of famous painter and storyteller Charles M. Russell, who immortalized western life under the Big Sky. The arts still form a vital part of Great Falls. Paris Gibson Square houses changing art exhibits and the permanent collection of the Cascade County Museum. The C.M. Russell Museum Complex contains more than 7,500 works of art. You can tour Russell's home and original log cabin studio, and view sculptures and paintings by Russell, O.C. Seltzer, E.E. Heikka, and more. The annual C.M. Russell Auction of Original Western Art draws people from around the world. The Montana Cowboy's Association Museum preserves the Old West era of Montana's history.

Great Falls is located on Interstate 15, with easy access to outlying attractions. Air service is provided by Delta, Horizon, Northwest, and United Airlines.

Visit Giant Springs State Park, the Ulm Pishkun Buffalo Jump, and St. Peter's Mission. West of town, the Rocky Mountain Front looms above the prairie. Nearby wildlife refuges harbor waterfowl, pronghorn antelope, elk, and even grizzly bears.

Great Falls—a great place for work and play.

Try your luck! Ray Ozmon

The State Capitol Mike Logan

Helena owes its existence to the 1864 gold discoveries in Last Chance Gulch. Placer gold, quartz gold, silver, and lead created an overnight boom town in this beautiful mountain valley.

Eventually the gold played out, but the people who came here stayed and prospered. They built a large Gothic cathedral, a Moorish temple (now the Civic Center), and ornate mansions. They graced the granite and limestone Capitol Building with a copper dome. Farmers tilled the rich valley floor. Ranchers supplied beef, lamb, and wool. Residents put down roots and set up traditions.

You'll find Helena a delightful place to visit. Stroll the shops and restaurants along the walking mall on Last Chance Gulch. Ride the tour train through the historic districts. Visit the original governor's mansion, attend a live performance at the Myrna Loy Center, try your luck in a casino, or tour the Montana Historical Society Museum and Galleries.

Helena is located on Interstate 15 and air service is provided by Delta, Horizon, and Sky West Airlines. Just outside of town are numerous attractions and activities, such as the boat tour through the Gates of the Mountains, Frontier Town log and rock village, and numerous ghost towns. Canyon Ferry Reservoir offers swimming, fishing, and boating. In autumn, hundreds of bald eagles gather near Helena to feast on migrating salmon.

WHITEFISH

Nestled in the Rocky Mountains on the shore of Whitefish Lake, this charming town began with fur trading in the 1800s and grew with logging and railroading. Today, outdoor enthusiasts take advantage of its excellent location and four-season recreationalopportunities.

The Big Mountain Ski and Summer Resort provides outstanding ski slopes, year-round chairlift rides, and hiking trails. In winter you can go on a sleigh ride, skate over glistening ice, or cross-country ski into the wilderness. The Whitefish Winter Carnival is a delightful celebration that includes imaginative ice sculptures.

Excellent golf courses have been designed with an appreciation for the view. There is tennis, swimming, hiking, and, of course, nearby Glacier National Park. The majestic Rocky Mountains beckon you with sparkling lakes, soaring peaks, lush forests, and abundant wildlife.

Bluegrass Festival Michael Javorka

The alpine style of Whitefish is enhanced downtown where art galleries, quaint shops, and diverse restaurants line the streets. Relax in a western saloon or opt for live music in a lounge or dance club. Listen for the train whistle when Amtrak arrives.

Put Whitefish at the top of your convention and meeting list. You'll be glad you did, and you'll be back to enjoy it again and again.

Introduction

Grouse Mountain Lodge is a 145-room conference resort which is located adjacent to the 27th fairway of the Whitefish Lake Golf Course. The surrounding area abounds in year-round cultural, recreational, and sporting opportunities.

The Lodge has its own restaurant and lounge with entertainment, meeting and banquet facilities, limited licensed gambling, video arcade, gift and sundry shop, indoor swimming pool, sauna, indoor and outdoor whirlpools, guest laundry facilities, and volleyball and tennis courts.

There are ten loft units with kitchenettes (ideal for hospitality suites) and two deluxe units with whirlpools. All of the accommodations are comfortably spacious and tastefully appointed, offering beautiful views of the surrounding mountains or golf course.

Interior Design

Nothing has been spared to make Grouse Mountain Lodge as magnificent as the country surrounding it! The Lodge is a contemporary adaptation of the grand old hotels found in Glacier National Park.

Huge log pillars greet you at the main entrance and cobble slate floors cover the public areas. All the chandeliers are made of elk antlers and wheels; local pieces of taxidermy surround the dining room, lounge, and lobby. Two beautiful three-story-high river rock fireplaces grace the lobby and restaurant. One wall is actually a three-story-high etched glass scene of Glacier National Park.

Transportation

Daily jet service into Kalispell's Glacier Park International Airport (eleven miles from the Lodge) connects Whitefish with every major city in the United States. Delta and Horizon are our primary air carriers.

Amtrak passenger trains also serve Whitefish on a direct route from Portland/Seattle and Minneapolis/Chicago. U.S. Highways 2, 40, and 93 provide easy access to the interstate highway system.

Meeting and Group Meal Arrangements

Our professional catering staff is happy to see to every detail of your meeting to ensure your complete satisfaction.

Our catering coordinator can design special menus, recommend theme items, decorations and entertainment, as well as confirm audio-visual needs, hospitality room set-ups, and coffee breaks for your convenience.

Group Tour Arrangements

We hope your group has an opportunity to take advantage of all that the Flathead Valley has to offer! The following activities are just a sample of what "Glacier Country" is all about (all details can be arranged to meet your itinerary): Glacier National Park, boating and sailing excursions, chuckwagon rides and dinners, whitewater and fishing raft trips, golf at any one of our six area championship courses, alpine and cross-country skiing, snowmobiling, shopping, and sightseeing.

Group and Seasonal Discounts

Grouse Mountain Lodge is pleased to offer group and seasonal discounts for everything from conventions, meetings, and workshops to retreats, incentives, and recreational getaways.

We feel that our unique interior design and taxidermy display, coupled with spacious guest rooms and exceptional food and beverage service, would certainly enhance any visitor's experience! Whitefish, the Recreation Capital of Montana, looks forward to welcoming you!

OFF THE BEATEN TRACK

Wide-open spaces and rolling plains dominate eastern Montana. Here, rivers meander through vast ranches and farms; coulees shelter herds of deer and pronghorn antelope; and small, friendly communities dot the landscape.

In Havre, the whole community turns out for the Rocky Boy Pow-wow, the Hill County Fair Rodeo, and the Northern Montana College Rodeo. Nearby, the nation's largest county park provides camping and fishing.

Glasgow is a recreation center for Fort Peck Lake and a trade center for northeastern Montana and southern Saskatchewan. Fort Peck Summer Theatre offers live family entertainment.

Del Siegle

Donald M. Jones

Near Plentywood in the northeast corner of Montana, wildlife watchers will find abundant viewing opportunities and Medicine Lake National Wildlife Refuge.

Glendive is an important farming and ranching center along the Yellowstone River and Interstate 94. Makoshika State Park features unusual rock formations.

Air service is provided by Big Sky Airlines to Glasgow, Glendive, and Havre.

Discover a fascinating land off the beaten track. Discover eastern Montana.

GUEST RANCHES

All of Montana's guest ranches and resorts have one thing in common: a spectacular setting. Choose your favorite, from a forested wilderness lake to a working ranch on the wide-open prairie. From luxurious coddling to rustic comfort. From hayrides to sailboat cruises.

Guest ranches and resorts can be ideal locations for workshops or board retreats. You'll find plenty of privacy for meetings, then ample opportunity to get away and think.

There are delightful options for every season. Cross-country ski guides lead you to cozy backcountry cabins. Gourmet chefs present culinary delights. Trail guides take you on horseback to breathtaking autumn vistas. Working cowboys show you how to throw a lariat. Boat captains name the high peaks surrounding a lake.

Get up close to watchable wildlife. Tee off under the peaks. Soak in hot springs under the stars. Learn the names of wildflowers. Cast a line into a stream. Relax around a roaring fire. Soak up some sunshine under the Big Sky.

Mountain Sky Guest Ranch

P.O. Box 1128, Bozeman, MT 59715
(406) 587-1244 or (800) 548-3392

A warm Montana welcome awaits you and your group here at Mountain Sky Guest Ranch, where you'll find all the ingredients to create the perfect meeting.

Nestled high in the Rocky Mountains overlooking a spectacular valley they call Paradise, our ranch offers the ideal location for a meeting you will always remember. Time spent in this true wilderness setting never fails to inspire energetic, productive meetings.

You'll also find everything here you'd expect to find at any modern conference center.

Meeting rooms that can accommodate groups up to 70. Audio-visual equipment. Food service that runs the spectrum from continental gourmet dinners in our main lodge with its three stone fireplaces to western barbeques around a campfire under the stars. And a very experienced, trained staff that can take the worries out of your day so you can concentrate on getting the job done and enjoying your stay.

And, when it comes to having a good time, you and your guests can choose from a long list of activities. In addition to the championship tennis courts, volleyball, softball, and horseshoe contests around the ranch, or just relaxing in our heated pool and jacuzzi, our staff can also plan some Montana experiences that make living in this country so very special.

Trail rides that take you high into the backcountry to enjoy spectacular vistas. An exhilarating raft trip down the legendary Yellowstone River. World-class trout fishing. An afternoon hike down the shady banks of a mountain creek. Or maybe, a day to explore the wonders of Yellowstone Park, only 30 miles south of the ranch.

We think you'll agree. Mountain Sky Guest Ranch has everything you'll need to put together an exciting conference. It's also a gateway to experiences you won't soon forget. So give us a call to reserve a time for your next meeting. Then dust off those cowboy boots, and grab your jeans and hat. We'll be anxious to meet you this season here at the ranch.

BED & BREAKFAST INNS

Bed and breakfast accommodations are for travelers who appreciate the personal touch. Choose from elegantly restored Victorian mansions to authentic western ranch homes to remodeled country estates.

Comfort and hospitality are commonplace. Sink into a feather bed, sip a brandy on the porch, play the piano, chat with other guests in the living room, or luxuriate in the deep water of that full-length clawfoot bathtub. Select privacy in your room or suite of rooms, or mingle with fellow travelers in a comfortably furnished common room. You'll find interesting books, maps, and other pertinent information available for your enjoyment.

Reserve the common room for a small-group seminar, or ask your hosts to prepare a meeting room. Business can be a real pleasure when conducted in fine surroundings.

The delightfulness of bed and breakfast accommodations comes from their variety. Each is as unique as the owners, and those owners are Montanans who are excited about sharing their corner of Montana with you.

When the Bulls of Autumn Come

It is a time of magic.

A time when summer's green yields to the gentle alchemy of autumn and begins its annual melting into gold.

A time when dawn's first kiss is silvered by the hoarfrost.

A time when hatches rise to wink ephemeral wings against an Indian summer sun.

It is a time of magic when the bulls of autumn come.
